Debts

When you purchase something “on time” or borrow money, the merchant or bank is a “Creditor” and the obligation to pay the Creditor is called a “Debt”. There are generally two kinds of Debts: “Unsecured Debts” and “Secured Debts”. This Brochure discusses how Secured Debts are handled in Chapter 7 Bankruptcy. The treatment of Secured Debts in Chapter 13 Bankruptcy are beyond the scope of this Brochure.

Secured Debts

The Creditor will often take a “Lien” on some of your property to ensure they are paid. The property the Creditor takes a Lien on is called the “Collateral”. If the Collateral is real property or land such as your home, the Lien takes the form of a real estate mortgage or simply a “Mortgage”.

If the Collateral is personal property such as furniture or a car, the Lien takes the form of a “Security Agreement” or a “Security Interest”. Sometimes a Creditor will take a Lien without your approval. This might occur when you are sued and the Creditor obtains a “Judgment Lien”. If you have been sued, ask for our Brochure on Judgment Liens.

Generally in bankruptcy if you want to keep Collateral subject to a Lien, you must pay what you owe the Creditor on time and you may need do reach some other arrangement acceptable to the Creditor.

Home Mortgages

If you own real estate such as the home where you live (“Homestead”), the Lien will likely be done with a Mortgage. If you have a Mortgage, you will most always be required to catch up on your payments shortly after you file for bankruptcy if you want to keep the Collateral.

Purchase Money Liens

If the Creditor that sold you the property (or purchased the Debt from the seller) holds the Lien, they have a Purchase Money Security Interest (“PMSI”).

On PMSI Liens you almost always need to get caught up on your payments shortly after you file bankruptcy if you want to keep the Collateral.

Non Purchase Money Liens

A Creditor has a “Non PMSI Lien” if they did not sell the Collateral to you and did not loan the money to you to purchase the Collateral. In Chapter 7 Bankruptcy we can often cancel or “Void” Non PMSI Liens on certain household goods. This includes property such as furniture, appliances and normally one television and one VCR (“Household Goods”). It does not include other property such as sporting goods, guns, lawn mowers, vehicles and the like.

Reaffirmation

If you want to keep property subject to a valid Lien, the Creditor will often want you to “Reaffirm” the Debt. This means you must sign a written document (a “Reaffirmation Agreement”) promising to repay all or a part of the Debt as though you had not taken bankruptcy. Normally when this is done you are in default on the Debt or the Creditor is making a concession by giving you a longer period of time to repay the Debt.

Be very careful in Reaffirming Debts, because you will owe the Debt after the bankruptcy just like you had never filed bankruptcy.

Options for Secured Debts

You will normally have the following options:

- ◆ Reaffirm the Debt in Full which means that you agree to repay the Creditor the full amount owed and the Creditor is not entitled to recover any of the Collateral if you pay as required by the Reaffirmation Agreement.
- ◆ Partially Reaffirm the Debt by agreeing to pay a portion of the Debt in exchange for an agreement for you to keep the Collateral. This is possible only with the agreement of the Creditor.
- ◆ Redeem the Collateral by offering to pay the Creditor a fixed sum of money which would entitle you to keep all or part of the Collateral.
- ◆ Void the Lien if it is a Non PMSI on Household Goods or a very limited number of other items. This only works on Non PMSI Liens.
- ◆ Do Nothing in the assumption that the Creditor will make no attempt to try to recover the Collateral because of its limited value. It is possible that a Creditor will not go to the expense of filing an action in the State District Court to recover the Collateral, but they certainly may and if they do, the Creditor will be able to recover the Collateral.

State's Oldest Law Firm

Near as we can tell Mitchell DeClerck's roots in Oklahoma can be traced back to shortly after noon on September 16, 1893, when Charles H. Parker came to Enid on the train during the Land Run of 1893. The Cherokee Strip Land Run began that day with more than 100,000 participants hoping to claim land. We don't know exactly when Mr. Parker opened his law practice in Oklahoma but until someone who was there tells us otherwise, we think that shortly after noon on September 16, 1893, the original predecessor of Mitchell DeClerck first opened its doors.

Parker was later joined by the former Attorney General of Oklahoma Territory Percy C. Simons forming Parker & Simmons in 1906. Simons had also made the run into Oklahoma in 1893 but began his practice in Grant County on the Kansas-Oklahoma border. Simons became the Attorney General of Oklahoma Territory in 1904 serving until 1906 when he came to Enid to join Parker.

Parker & Simmons grew in stature and was the only Enid firm listed in the prestigious Hubbell's Law Directory in 1918, the year of Parker's death. Parker was a Bankruptcy Trustee at least as early as 1918 so we've done bankruptcy for over a century.

Mitchell DeClerck is the oldest law firm in Enid, Oklahoma by nearly a century and the oldest law firm in the state of Oklahoma by several years. So, over parts of three centuries we've long done most everything involving Oklahoma law. If you need an Oklahoma Lawyer to help you solve a problem, in our 124 plus years representing Oklahomans beginning with Charles Parker in 1893 you can be assured that: We've been there and done that.
